Diablo Crusade Set for All-Out Drive

Local Men Tell Of Benefits to Area Agencies

The United Bay Area Crusade, combining money-raising efforts for health, welfare and guidance agencies in five counties and startng Tuesday, will provide for more than 20 groups in this area alone.

The overall drive, under the headship of Peter Howard, Walnut Creek resident, lasts until November 21, when workers hope to have reached an announced goal of $10,691,640. All money taken in the counties will be lumped together and allocated to groups on the basis of their budget requests.

IN A KICKOFF DINNER held Wedensday in Oakland for nearly 1000 men and women workers, the requirements of each area, to be fulfilled in accordance with the main drive's success, were announced.

In Central Contra Costa County, the need is for $203,566, of which 90 per cent will be fulfilled if the overall drive goal is achieved, through pending solicitations, and also advance gifts and contributions from the military and major firms. The high percentage noted is due to the priority rating assigned this expanding area, according to officials.

Included are Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Pleasant Hill, Alamo, Danville, San Ramon and other towns in the Diablo Valley Cabinet and the Concord and Martinez areas.

SCORES OF WORKERS have been recruited in this area for the job, headed by Earl Cappel, Lafayette auto dealer.

Cappel said this week:

"This is the one big chance to do the job, and do it right in one fell swoop. We will do our utmost in Central Contra Costa County to help reach the $10 million goal, and I know the people will open their doors to our workers."

Organizations in this area which will benefit include American Red Cross, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Boy Scouts of America, Camp Fire Girls, Concord Community Chest, Concord Community Welfare Fund, Concord Ministerial Fund, Girl Scouts of America, Herrick Memorial Hospital Clinics, Learn-to-Swim program, Shadland School for Cerebral Palsied Children, United Defense Fund (USO), White Cane Week, National Federation of the Blind, Young Men's Christian Association, and their related chapters in this area.

The Diablo Valley Cabinet includes Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Danville and Pleasant Hill. Cappels chairmen are Gordon Moynahan for Walnut Creek, Ken Jensen for Lafayette, George Eberhart for Orinda, Al Kaplan for Danville and Don Burke for Pleasant Hill. Area wide coordinators are Charles Gable and John Price, commerce and industry, and Clifford Grodin, public relations. George Conner is Crusade cabinet president.

The stickers are to be affixed in windows in front of the homes, as guides for solicitors who will later visit the residential districts.

The residential campaign begins November 7, and lasts until November 21, when it is hoped that contributions of those unable to give at work will boost the total past the $10 million mark.

Agency demonstrations will be held each Friday evening in October in the Walnut Creek shopping center, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Altarinda Tract Gains Approval, Includes 74 Lots

Plans for a 74-lot subdivision in Altarinda Estates were approved Tuesday night by the County Planning Commission.

Designated as Unit No. 2, Tract 2333, the proposed subdivision's lots average 115 by 190 feet, approximately 21,800 square feet.

Located west of Charles Hill Road and north of Unit No. 1, the tract is in a residential-agricultural zone. However, seven of its lots do not conform to R-A zone requirements as far as lot size is concerned.

The lots in question, 72-78, have been granted an exception to Ordinance 820. They will each cover a minimum of 20,000 square feet.

R-A zone requirements are as follows: Lot area — one-half acre (21,780 square feet); average lot width — 100 feet; side yards — 35 feet aggregate, 15-foot minimum; and set backs — 25 feet.

Consideration of Tract 2313, located east of Moraga Highway along Ivy Drive in an A zone, was held over until next Tuesday pending provision of a school site at the rear of the subdivision. Eighteen lots are involved, averaging 80 by 140 feet, approximately 11,000 square feet. Minimum lot size for an A zone is 10,000 square feet, with 10-foot side side yards and 20-foot setbacks.

Tract 2314, a 14-lot subdivision east of Moraga Highway along Ivy Drive, was approved. Lots average 100 by 130 feet, approximately 13,000 square feet, in an A zone.

Signal Survey Of Intersection To Be Conducted

Ramsay Underwood reported to the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at The Willows that the County Road Department will conduct a survey to determine the need for stop lights or other traffic controls at the intersection of Brookwood Road and Moraga Highway.

He discussed the matter with Basil Andrews, county traffic engineer, and reported that Andrews seemed to consider the intersection not dangerous enough for signals.

The chamber heard a letter read from Gladys Schwatka asking for financial help for the program and supplies of the Contra Costa County Juvenile Hall. No action was taken.

Contract Given For Bus Turnoff Job at Orinda

With the contract having been awarded to the low bidder, construction of a bus turnoff and related facilities in the northeast cloverleaf of the Orinda Interchange is expected to begin within the next few weeks and to be completed in about two months.

This was stated yesterday at the office of Assistant District Engineer H. S. Miles of the State Division of Highways in San Francisco.

The contract was awarded September 28 by the state director of public works to Watkin and Sibbald of San Anselmo, the firm which had bid $58,034.60 for the job.

AFTER THE contractor returns the signed contract to the Department of Public Works, and posts the necessary bond, the contract must be approved by the state attorney general.

The projec, to serve westbound buses, for the loading and unloading of passengers, will include a bus turnoff, by means of a parallel road; roadside development — planting and landscaping; lighting modifications and a small maintenance building for a gardener.

WHEN THE STATE project is completed, erection of a bus-waiting shelter there will be possible.

The Contra Costa County Commuters Association, the Orinda Chamber of Commerce and the Orinda Association are all interested in the building of a new bus shelter.

The former bus shelter was removed from the northeast corner of the old Crossroads, to make way for the freeway interchange. Available for a new shelter is $575 realized from disposition of the old shelter.

One Hour Parking Goes Into Effect

New one-hour parking limit signs have been installed on Moraga Highway and Brookwood Road in the business district, Horace Breed told Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce at The Willows.

BREED IS chairman of the Orinda Parking District, and explained that the change in the parking limit from two hours to one hour is the result of a survey made by Basil Andrews, county traffic engineer. The survey's results have been written into a new ordinance passed by the Board of Supervisors.

The survey showed that the great majority of shoppers need only one hour and that the heavy demand for available parking necessitates the change, according to Breed.

He also announced that a large parking area alongside and in back of the Lucky Market has been marked off in painted parking stalls for one hour free parking. This is available for those who wish to shop anywhere in the Orinda business area.

The Lucky Market is expected to open in two or three weeks.

BEYOND Northwood Drive is a stretch of two-hour parking. In reply to a chamber recommendation that the two-hour limit remain, the County Road Department wrote back that it will continue to allow two-hour parking in the Village, but not in the Crossroads business district.

Breed said Jack Snow would permit rocking of part of his property near the Village for parking, but it would have to be financed by Village merchants.

Locklin Injured When Trapped Under His Car

Harry P. Locklin, 34, of 33 Sleepy Hollow Lane is in Alta Bates Hospital, Berkeley, with fractured pelvis and hips which he suffered when his station wagon car turned over on top of him in a freak accident last Saturday night.

The accident occurred in the driveway of the Locklin home. The car had been mostly in the garage and partly outside, and the headlamps had been left on by Mrs. Locklin to provide light for work on a model boat by the Locklins' two sons, Paul, 9, and Bobby, 10, in the garage.

Locklin noticed that the battery had run down. He started to roll the auto out of the garage, in order to be able to get in and recharge the battery. One wheel hit a retaining wall, and the car overturned toward Locklin, trapping him.

Mrs. Locklin said yesterday that her husband will probably remain at the hospital about a month. She said he is improving satisfactorily.

October Starts Somewhat Balmy

October entered the Orinda scene under the apparent illusion that summer was still here. At least, that's the impression given by the past week's daytime temperatures and the lack of rainfall.

True, evenings were a bit on the chilly side — and served as a reminder that generally cooler weather, plus rain, is on the way.

Here are the high and low temperatures for the week up to yesterday morning:

	High	Low
September 29	80	39
September 30	84	39
October 1	85	41
October 2	87	40
October 3	70	45

Moraga Orinda School Boundaries Disputed

Federal Court Suit May Block Greyhound Move

Possibility of a federal court suit loomed this week over the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision to allow Pacific Greyhound Lines to establish a separate company for its Bay Area commute buses.

Following an ICC announcement in Washington, D.C., Tuesday that ICC will permit Greyhound to form the Golden Gate Transit Lines after October 19, Attorney Spurgeon Avakian stated he would confer with Contra Costa and Marin county officials, to determine whether to file an appeal in federal court.

In the long battle against Greyhound's plans to set up a subsidiary company Avakian has represented the two counties, as well as the commuter organizations of both counties — the Contra Costa County Commuters Association and the Marin County Federation of Commuter Clubs.

POSSIBILITY of federal court action contesting the Greyhound move comes also from another source — the AFL Bus Drivers Union.

Union spokesmen stated the union fears that the forming of a subsidiary bus firm wuold jeopardize the job security of union members. They said they planned to carry the fight into federal court.

In making its announcement this week, ICC refused to reconsider its order of last July allowing formation of the Golden Gate Transit Lines.

Meanwhile, the California Public Utilities Commission gave no indication of whether it would recognize Golden Gate Transit Lines as a separate company and permit establishment of separate rates.

THE COMMUTER groups have protested to the Greyhound proposal on the grounds that it would result in upping of commuter ticket rates.

On the other hand, Greyhound has stressed that its long-haul operations should not be considered when PUC sets rates for its commuter runs, which, the company maintains, are money-losers.

Greyhound states that it wants to form the Golden Gate Transit Lines in an effort to make the commute operations pay their own way.

Trustees Accept Check From Club

A check for $1047 from the Orinda Mothers Club for the purchase of library books was accepted Monday night at a meeting of the Orinda School District Board of Trustees. To date, the Mothers Club has contributed $2730 to the district from proceeds of last year's activities.

In other busienss Monday night at Orinda School, Superintendent Joseph Sheaff announced the district enrollment at 2186 pupils, a 10 per cent increase over last year.

The board agreed to have an estimate made of the cost of landscaping the front of Sleepy Hollow School, and an estimate on removing some of the trees to make the Del Rey School playground bigger.

An estimate will also be procured for resurfacing the basketball and volleyball areas at Orinda School.

A bid of $1036 from Scott Company, Oakland, was accepted for servicing existing heating units in the various schools to bring them up to the new standards submitted by the state. Three companies bid for the job.

Trustees purchase a building for $1199, which is being installed on the Orinda School grounds as a maintenance shed.

Sheaff announced that construction of the Pine Grove school should be completed in the "middle of November."

Interchange Work Shifts Eastbound Cars Next Week

Assistant State Highway Engineer B. W. Booker announced yesterday that early next week eastbound traffic on Mt. Diablo Boulevard will be shifted to a detour around the site of the future Pleasant Hill Interchange. The traffic will be routed to the south of the existing highway over Sanford Road for a distance of approximately one-half mile. A temporary traffic signal is being installed to provide for the movement of traffic on Pleasant Hill Road.

This shift of traffic is necessary to permit the building of a portion of the Interchange structure. It is contemplated that eastbound traffic will use this detour for about seven months.

Meanwhile, westbound traffic will not be affected.

Motorists using this route are requested to be alerted for changes in conditions at the site of this work and to exercise full caution in driving through the construction area.

Sheaff Says Residents' Decision Will Be Final

By WALT JOHNSON

"Infringements" by the Orinda School District prompted the Moraga Mothers Club and the Moraga Valley Community Club to begin circulating petitions over the weekend, designed to preserve the orderly and prosperous growth of Moraga.

One petition opposes any immediate change in the Moraga School District boundary, and asks deferral of any change until future development "establishes beyond question the location of a boundary more advantageous to all districts concerned." It is addressed to the Board of Supervisors and the County Board of Education.

The other petition, addressed to the Moraga School District Board of Trustees, opposes transfer of 19 pupils in Ranchitos De Moraga to the Orinda district. The boundary line between the two school districts runs through the Ranchitos.

ORINDA DISTRICT Superintendent Joseph Sheaff said yesterday: "Our school board has agreed to cooperate with the Moraga school board in whatever they want to do.

"Our request for the transfer of the 19 pupils is merely a form sent from one school district to another. If the Moraga district refuses to approve it, then the people involved in the Ranchitos can take it to the County Board of Education. The board's decision on the matter will be final."

Sheaff said the Moraga district must pay the tuition if it is decided that the children will attend school in Orinda. If Moraga accepts the inter-district transfer form, no tuition is required.

"Our school board is anxious to arrive at a mutual agreement on any new boundary line," said Sheaff. "It isn't the board's place to get into a hassle over the matter; such burden falls to the people living in areas affected.

"If the Board of Supervisors turns down a petition to change district boundaries, people in the area can demand an election involving them. If they vote in favor, nobody has anything to say about a change."

CAPTAIN Harold R. Parker, president of the Moraga Valley Community Club, said his group opposes any activity leading to the eventual transfer of any taxable property from the Moraga School District without an equivalent gain.

"Such an action would not be in the public interest," said Captain Parker, "and would definitely defer any benefits which the people have a right to expect as the community grows."

In an open letter Tuesday to residents of Rheem Valley Estates, Captain Parker asked patience in regard to some service "which cannot yet be supplied in a community which is just commencing to grow after lying dormant and almost forgotten for a hundred years."

He said that, in time, population growth will make possible the building of churches, additional schools and recreation facilities, and the institution of many desirable services such as postal delivery and businesses serving the needs of the community.

His club strongly opposes any extension of Orinda and Lafayette postal service into Moraga.

AN EXTENSION of the Lafayette postal service 1.3 mile west of Clark's Market in Moraga Center was proposed last week by H. T. "Doc" Crandell, Lafayette postmaster, after consultations with Laura Mallary, Orinda postmaster. Crandell is awaiting word from the District Manager in Sacramento.

As to the 19 children in question in the Ranchitos, the petition being circulated maintains that if their transfer were approved without good and sufficient reason, it would be a tacit statement of inability to educate them properly.

According to the petition, the transfer would deprive the Moraga School District of its rightful share of state and county apportionment funds, and also increase the average cost of educating the children remaining in the district.

Miramonte Club To Meet Monday In School Gym

County Tax Rise Varies; PH Low, Walnut Creek Up

County tax bills in Walnut Creek and Orinda will increase markedly as a result of the 35 per cent increase in valuation of county-assessed property, ordered recently by the State Board of Equalization.

However, the rise is much less in Pleasant Hill and some other areas.

VARIATIONS ARE according to the proportion of public utility property on the tax rolls in each area, and local tax changes contemplated regardless of valuation increases, according to the County Taxpayers Association.

The mark-up in Walnut Creek is 10.6 per cent, or $18.58 increase in taxes on a home with a $10,000 market value, the association report says.

For Orinda, it's 12.7 per cent, or $21.66 on the $10,000 home.

IN CONTRAST, Pleasant Hill owners face a 2.6 per cent rise, or $5.46 on such a home.

The average increase for the county as a whole is seven to eight per cent, with the highest 20.9 per cent in Antioch.

Figures include county, school and special district taxes, but not city taxes which were not directly affected by the 35 per cent order. Taxpayers who lost veterans exemptions due to valuation increases will find their bills up about $12 in addition to the increases mentioned.

Here is how some of the other towns fared: Concord, 3.4 per cent, $5.84 on a $10,000 home; Richmond, 13.1 per cent, $17.20; Danville, 4.1 per cent, $6.11.

Featured speaker will be Hugh Lancaster, an officer in the Ross Commuters Association. He will speak on the advantages of closer cooperation between the Marin and Contra Costa County commuter associations in tackling problems faced by both areas.

ALL MEMBERS of the commuters' group, as well as others who are interested in commuting, are urged to attend the meeting.

Seven new members of the Board of Directors who serve for two years will be elected Tuesday night. The commuters also will elect officers for next year.

According to Leroy Sowers, president, there will also be a brief general business meeting.

MEANWHILE, John McKirahan, head of the service committee, announced that through the association's efforts an additional San Francisco commute bus was added to Greyhound's schedule last week.

The new bus leaves Walnut Creek at 7:04 a.m. In the evening, the new bus leaves Seventh and Mission Streets at 5:10 p.m.

Dr. Blum Talks To Lions Club

At a recent meeting of the Orinda Lions at The Willows, Dr. Henrik Blum, County Health Officre pointed out the importance of the Epilepsy League, founded by a Lions chapter to aid epileptics.

He said the Orinda Lions Club was to be praised for promoting into existence, through its vision conservation activities, the Orinda School District vision testing program.

The program is designed to develop or find effective tests to be used for discovering visual defects in children.

Dr. Blum said polio vaccine is now available commercially in limited amounts, and some Federally provided vaccine will soon be available to a limited group not able to get the vaccine privately. He said staffing problems would hamper any extensive inoculation by the County Health Department.

According to Dr. Blum, corrections by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District should prevent any overflow problems this winter.

President Joe Navone served as program chairman.

Orinda Store Being Expanded

"Rural country atmosphere, paradise and supermarket shopping advantages" are described as the threefold aim of the current $200,000 expansion program underway at the Orinda Store. The project, which will add an adidtional 7000 feet to the present structure, also includes a general remodeling and "facelifting."

The Grand Opening is expected to be announced within the next 60 days.

According to Ewart Phair, the whole idea is to create a completely different concept in grocery shopping—"that food buying may become an adventure for the housewife instead of a mundane task."

THE EXTERIOR will be landscaped in the suburban manner by Ernest Wartheim. As you enter you will step into an old-world atmosphere, including a completely authentic Old English Shop, designed by Carr Jones, noted for his English rural-type architecture. Wines and liquors will be featured here.

Another new department will be devoted to Dreyer's fancy ice creams.

However, according to Phair, th eold familiar landmarks will still be present—the gift nook, the extensive line of rare and exotic foods from here and abroad, Charlotte's pastries in the fresh-baked goods department, and many others.

WHAT IS PRESENTLY the "old store" will be converted into a completely modern supermarket. The entire store will be air-conditioned.

A 50-car parking lot is available across the street.

Architect is C. F. Long. Contractor is Oliver and Coburn.

Mothers of the eighth graders are being notified, according to Mrs. Robert Rodden, coordinator, that the eighth grade assembly dances will commence the last Friday of the month, October 28, in the Glorietta all-purpose room under the dance direction of Mr. and Mrs. George Clifford. The charge of $7 is made for the dancing series and checks may be brought to the first assembly, made payable to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford and not to the school district.

Mrs. Charles Erickson, vice-president, announced the importance of attendance of all Orinda mothers at the Mothers Club general meeting to be held at Glorietta School, October 18, 1:30 p.m. Through the cooperation of the Contra Costa County sheriff's office a movie called "Dangerous Stranger" will be shown and adding to the narrative will be guest speaker Captain Jagard, a veteran of 20 years in the law enforcement field. The movie subject material deals with the danger of children becoming friendly with strangers.

Mrs. Erickson stated that the excellent documentary film is made available through the sheriff's department and Captain Jagard will suggest explanations that might be used to alert young children to the danger of becoming friendly with strangers without frightening them.

Mothers to Hear Child Director

First monthly meeting of the Orinda Nursery School Association will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Orinda Community Church. This is the first in a series of programs planned throughout the school year for the education of nursery school parents.

Guest speaker Wednesday night will be Dr. Catherine Landreth, director of the University of California's nursery school at the Institute of Child Development. Dr. Landreth will emphasize the need for providing materials and experiences that have educational content in a well-planned nursery school program.

She will also describe the most successful methods of handling children in groups and offer suggestions to help teachers and mothers get the most from their relationships in a cooperative nursery school.

Refreshments will be served after the business meeting and lecture. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Robert Brorsen, chairman, and her committees, Mesdames Paul Fanning, Forrest Hill, Rich Weyeneth, and Paul M. Weber.

In cooperation with the Orinda Library Committee, nursery school members are being asked to bring rummage with them to the meeting on Wednesday evening for collection by the Library Committee. Proceeds from the sale to be held later in the month will go towards the new library building for Orinda.

Special music was sung by the church choir.

The Rev. David J. Harrington is pastor of the parish.

The $220,000 structure, which includes the church proper and a hall, has been in use since last Christmas Eve.

Parents Organize Group To Back Acalanes Bond Plan

High school parents in the Acalanes High School District have organized a Parents Committee for the Acalanes District Bond Proposal, to gain community support for the Acalanes District's request for a $3,250,000 bond issue, to go before the voters November 22.

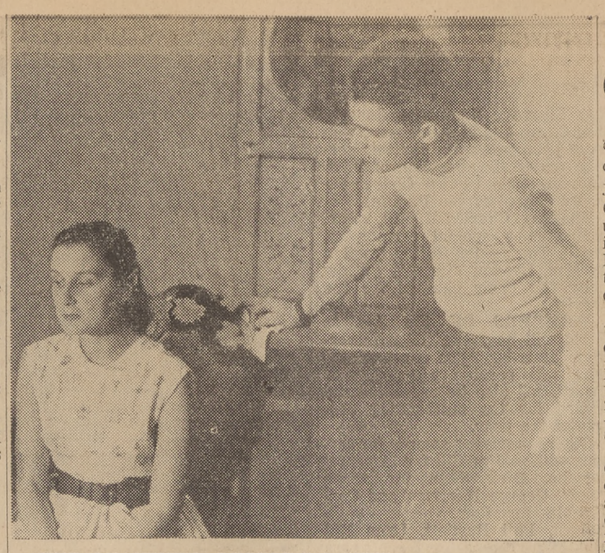
Members of the committee from Walnut Creek include: Mrs. James A. Adams, Mrs. Larry Ervin, William Hayward, Ben McFeeley, James Symington and Mrs. Clarion Wood. Lafayette committee members are Mrs. R. L. Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dees, Mr. and Mrs. Don Fibush, Mrs. Jean Hall, Floyd Marchus and Mrs. Barbara Shurtleff.

Parent members from Orinda are Louis B. Ambler, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Anderson, Mrs. C. M Fish, Harold R. Hartsough, Mrs. John E. Rinne and Mrs. Jean N. Smith.

Commenting on the formation of the committee, Mrs. Rinne stated:

"The committee's chief purpose will be to impress parents of students in elementary school of the urgency of a 'yes' vote on the high school bond proposal. If the high school district doesn't get the bond money to build classrooms within the next five years children now in elementary school will be attending high school on double sessions.

"Double sessions inevitably mean a lowering of educational standards, overcrowded facilities and limited learning activities."



"THE BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE," by William Saroyan, will be presented by the Dramateurs at 8:30 tonight, tomorrow night, next Friday night and on Saturday night, October 15, at the Berkeley Little Theater, Allston Way and Grove Street, Berkeley. Rehearsing a scene are two of the actors, Alice Swenning as St. Agnes of the Mice and Rod Newhall as Owen Webster.

'Beautiful People' Opens Its Dramateur Run Tonight

Curtain time is 8:30 and opening night is tonight for the Dramateurs' presentation of "The beautiful People."

William Saroyan's play will be given two consecutive weekends — tonight and tomorrow night, next Friday night and on Saturday night, October 15 at the Berkeley Little Theater, Allston Way and Grove Street, Berkeley.

Tickets are $1.50 (students, 70 cents) and are available from any member of the Dramateurs, at Hinks Library in Berkeley or at the box office.

CARL RASMUSSEN, well-known to little-theater goers, is directing the play, with Peg Stanislawsky and Beth Culp as assistant directors.

Ed Nather is technical director, Pinky Plumb of Orinda is business manager, Janis Janssen of Orinda is in charge of promotion and Leonard Nachman is stage manager.

SAROYAN'S PLAY concerns a boy of 15 who writes novels consisting of one word, his sister who pretends to be taken in by the boy's pretense that the mice in the house spell out her name in flowers on her birthday and the free-lance philosopher of a father who lives by cashing in the pension checks of a complete stranger dead for seven years.

These people enact Saroyan's theme that love is the only thing that matters in the world.

The New York Post described "The Beautiful People" as a play "possessing a beguiling quality of sustained innocence and blessed derangement."

ROD NEWHALL of Concord takes the part of Owen Webster and Alice Swenning is St. Agnes of the Mice.

Others in the cast include:

Don Schaefer as Jonah Webster, Eddie Woltz of Orinda as William Prim, Hans Kaiser as Dan Hillboy, Val Plump of Orinda as Father Hogan and Katie Genesy as Harmony Blueblossom.

Big Machines Start Work On New Therapy Center

Heavy equipment, including carry-alls, tractors, and graders converged on the four acres adjacent to the East Campus of the Contra Costa Junior College Saturday, beginning the first phase in construction of the new Mount Diablo Therapy Center. Construction of the plant will begin in 60 days, it was announced.

Original plans for the new center have been changed to include more space for special services. Included are the modern functional designs created by architect Harry Nakahara of Martinez. Bids will be called for soon.

After a successful building fund drive in 1953 and early 1954 for erection of new facilities on Hookston Road in Concord, and subsequent groundbreaking ceremonies, it was brought to the attention of the directors of the Therapy Center that the present location on Golf Club Road might be obtained from the Concord Hospital District.

FOLLOWING SEVERAL months of negotiations with the hospital district, a 99-year lease was agreed upon by the two institutions at $500 per year with the center's option to buy the four-acre parcel in five years at a price fixed by appraisers. Rental paid in the interim would apply on the purchase price.

With a larger and more desirable site available and in consideration of the constant growth of center services, the board of directors sought ways of obtaining additional financing for a larger building. The decision was to apply for financial assistance under the Federal and State Hospital Survey and Construction Program of the Wolverton amendment to the Hill-Burton Act. Under this act Federal assistance is obtainable for one-third of eligible costs with matching funds obtainable from the State.

HOWEVER, WITH 14 applications for assistance in the rehabilitation field involving about $589,000 in Federal and State funds, priorities had to be established in compliance with the requirements of the construction program. Funds in the rehabilitation category were awarded to Stanford University Hospital and the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Local companies donated the equipment for the Saturday project, under the direction of Jack Marchant, of the Marchant Construction Company, Lafayette, who is chairman of the center's building committee.

They included Gallagher and Burk, of Walnut Creek, Lee J. Immel of Richmond, Orinda Excavating and Paving of Concord; Martin Brothers Incorporated of Concord, Tony Lemos, Jim Martino, Don Norman and Bert Bertagnolli, all of Lafayette.

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS was Wayne Morris of Orinda Excavating and Paving. Leo Schell of Lafayette was site engineer and Jim Simonds of Lafayette job coordinator.

A watermelon feed was held at the end of the day's work in the Sheltered Workshop.

Dr. Madison to Speak at Real Estate Meeting

A sales program will be presented by Dr. George Madison, coordinator of business education for Contra Costa Junior College, at a breakfast meeting of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board Monday.

Douglas Knight, new breakfast chairman succeeding Ray McCoy, announced this week that the State Division of Real Estate has made available a special form required in connection with real estate loan where a fee is paid by the borrower.

The form requires complete information on all charges and expenses, plus the amount of any commission paid. Requests for it are taken at the Division's 1744 Broadway office in Oakland.

New tour captains for the fourth quarter are Fred Blake for Orinda and Ray McCoy for Walnut Creek. Procedure calls for putting houses first on the Mart, and then on the Tour, the new officers emphasized.

Top Mart salesman for the quarter is a woman — Reba Bernhardt of the Linden Sherk office, who finished up with 4560 points, according to reports.

Mrs. R. L. Westfall of Lafayette was welcomed as a new member. An article on the Constitution of the United States written by an Acalanes member, Mrs. George Hack, was read to the group by Mrs. Wynne Newell. Suggestions for a civic project were made by several committee chairmen and a decision will be made later.

Diablo Council Scouters Meet At Acalanes High

"Onward for God and My Country" was the theme of the annual planning conference of Mount Diablo Council Scouters, held at Acalanes High School Monday, according to Justice A. F. Bray, council president.

"Purpose of the new emphasis is, through organized and trained adult leaders, to give an increasingly better program to an increasing number of our boys and young men," Bray stated. "Through the planning conference it created new awareness of the purposefulness of Scouting, and placed emphasis on those phases that will help today's youth to be prepared as citizens of character."

"It is fitting that at this time of year particularly, when we are asking the public to support our program through the United Crusade, we take stock of our progress and establish new goals for the year ahead,' Bray continued. "We expect to do this by meeting together as we do each year. We will have the benefit of training received by our Executive Staff at the National Conference held in Michigan just recently, and I expect a large number of community leaders from throughout the Council area to benefit from our evenings' delberations."

Tapayers Plan Annual Dinner

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Contra Costa County Taxpayer's Association will be held October 24, at the Orinda Willows, it was announced this week.

Installation of officers will be held, and the election of nine members of the Board of Directors will be announced.

Among the candidates for election are L. A. Buskirk, incumbent of Pleasant Hill, and Lawrence Wallace and E. M. Rowland, incumbent, both of Lafayette.

Before and after dinner entertainment will be provided by the Contra Costa Junior College, and the Berkeley Chapter of the Barbershop Quartet Society.

Christian Science

That spiritual understanding of divine law brings freedom from discord of every kind will be stated at services Sunday in Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Golden Text from Romans (8:2): "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

The importance of coping with sin is emphasized in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (315:16): "The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize this likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage, the liberty of the sons of God."

Readings from the Old and New Testaments of the Bible will include Christ Jesus' parable of the prodigal son (Luke 15).

Estrellita's 'Elephants' Will Aid Camp for Blind

Estrellita Branch of Recreation for the Blind will hold a "white elephant" tea from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank Tebbs, 59 La Espiral, Orinda, as a fund-raising event to benefit Enchanted Hills summer camp for East Bay blind people.

A "white elephant" is the price of admission. Proceeds will be used to improve the children's area of the camp at Napa.

Each year over 300 blind children want to attend the camp for two weeks — but only half that number can go, because of the limited facilities at Enchanted Hills. Estrellita Branch members hope that, through public cooperation, accommodations at the camp will be increased.

A statement by Estrellita branch points out:

"EACH YEAR sees how fun, health and learning, in an atmosphere of affection and understanding, can inspire courage and zest for life in blind children.

"Many adult vacationists who have sat at home, idle for years, have left camp with the determination to end the lethargic dependence on a dole and embark on efforts to find work.

"Enchanted Hills offers boating, swimming, crafts, weaving, horseback riding, athletic games, morning sing periods, music-listening sessions, evening campfires and evening indoor programs, hikes and folk dancing. Chapel services, on a non-sectarian basis, are held every Sunday in the outdoor church of redwoods, ferns and a bubbling brook.

"The adult section of the camp includes a lodge and cabins. The children's area is composed of platforms with hand-rails around the sides and with a true feeling of 'camping out'."

LAST SUMMER the Orinda group supplied the chemicals for the pool, made utility bags to hang on the bedsteds and provided one campership for a child financially unable to pay.

A "white elephant" is described as "something just a little too good for that rummage sale but not quite right to pass on for a Christmas gift."

Anything that can be sold is acceptable — old vases, ash trays, brass bird cages — or even a baby grand piano or a last-year's Cadillac.

About Our Happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

Word belongs in happy hunting grounds

"Terrific" is a word which, long since, should have been consigned to the limbo of exhausted descriptives along with such worthies as "the cat's whiskers," "Odd's Bodkin" and "I love my wife but oh you kid." Webster makes it quite clear that the word means "arousing great terror or fear: excessive, extreme, tremendous." However, most of us, in this day of big hurry and little vocabulary, misuse it as a super-classification for everything from the Golden Gate Bridge to Mrs. McGillicudy's new lace trimmed pale blue nylon underslip.

So we are sure you will agree that said word should be relegated to the happy hunting ground of worn out words, but before departure we would like to use just one more time to describe two young gentlemen who are, beyond all question of a doubt, terrific, cool, George and/or the bee's knees.

From Great Britain, sleek, slender and slightly resembling Mel Ferrer in a brunet sort of way, they sing and play the piano to produce a type of modern rhythm totally unlike anything we hear issuing from the back seat of our station wagon when we take the family and the dog on a trip. The latter, incidentally, has a baying howl of considerable range which is the gnat's knuckles when worked in with a tenn-age two part harmonic rendition of "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

Spencer twins belong at keyboard

But back to the two young men, the Spencer twins, who started out as choir boys in England but slid into popular music from a well educated and symphonic past. Bryan and Derek tossed tunes all over the Woodburn K. Lamb's patio on the moonlit evening of Saturday last when the Orinda Branch of the Children's Hospital held its annual September soiree on the first week of October.

Also Chuck Dutton, he of the stately mien and boppy fingers, made the little patio piano fairly bounce with excitement—just like the guests.

Whoops—if we don't work some names in here, Mr. Newspaper will throw the whole works into the waste paper basket—now let's see—oh yes, the committee—Mrs. Ted Beckett was head lady and in collaboration with Mr. Beckett was also head of the food department. Mrs. Frank Fee Jr. managed the liquid refreshments and the following ladies sat at the door and raked in the money: Mesdames Paul Slattery, Ron Schacht, John McFarland and Robert McFarland, Robert Jurs, Fred Borden and Frank Fee Jr.

Mrs. Walter Lamb, the clever lady from Pebble Beach did the decorations, and Mrs. Fred Goodwin and Mrs. Ron Schacht and the Becketts smoked various hams and turkeys.

Hostess "belongs" in pink felt skirt

Another party under last weekend's full moon—Friday evening around the Stanley Dollar Jr. pool and gardens in Saranap—no host, cocktails and wonderful accordion music—hostess looking like a dream in pink felt skirt and matching sweater embroidered with beads. Junior League party for members living on this side of the tunnel.

Assisting hostesses were: Mesdames Clark Burnahm Jr., Ernest Kahl, Lee Kidwell, Emerson Wiser, Victor Atkins and Thomas Neely. Guests were: Mesdames and Messrs. Williams Beckett, Robert Spott, Robert Woods, Gordon Martin, Harry Ogler, Ridgway Woodburn, William Allen, Robert Angell, Warren Arnett, John Bailey, Charles Beckett, John Beckett.

Messrs. and Mesdames Gorden Martin Norman Miller, James Morris, William Mutch Jr., James Nutting, George Peterson, William Platt, Louis Plummer, Campbell Ross, John Sexson Jr., Donald Sleeper, Robert Spott, Charles Stimpston, Donald Tibbitts, Robert Von der Lieth, Richard Ward, Robert Woods, Warren Yager, Robert Hammill, and Drs. and Mrs. Paul Slattery and Samuel Hall and Mrs. Weyand Milton.

Good deed department: The Holmes Book Store in Oakland is printing book lists for the Vallely lecture series as a gift to the Children's Hospital so that you do not need to take pencil and paper to write it down in the dark, and don't forget:

Last call for Mrs. Vallely.
Who looks and talks so snappily.
On Wednesday next to the theater go
And learn a lot that you ought to know.
She'll review the book and the current event
And you will be mighty glad you went.

Two 'Balladeers' Appear In First Acalanes Concert

Josef Marais and Miranda, international "balladeers" famous for their unique concerts, recordings, radio and television programs, will appear at the Acalanes High School auditorium Tuesday at 8:15 p.m., under the auspices of the Acalanes Community Concert Association, as the first concert of its 1955 season.

Marais and Miranda have collected humorous and tender songs from many countries, translated them freely into modern English terms and fashioned them into solos and duets with great skill. Most of their songs are presented in English, with an added verse in the original language. Marais sings in an easy, relaxed baritone and Miranda in a light soprano as Marais plays accompaniments on the classic guitar.

Marais, born in South Africa, was a violinist and composer, giving recitals in England, when he began a series of song and adventure programs for the BBC called "African Trek." In these he featured South African folk songs which he had known intimately since boyhood days on his father's sheep ranch. In 1939 he began a similar series for the NBC in the United States.

Miranda, born in Amsterdam, began her career as a pianist and accompanist. While studying voice in New York she became an ardent admirer of Marais' broadcast programs. The two became acquainted while working together for the Voice of America. Since their marriage in 1947 they have toured widely in the United States and Europe. Both are highly polished artists with a lively sense of humor and subtle showmanship. They talk informally to their audiences.

This concert, as is also true of the remainder of the series, is open only to members of the Community Concert Association. If any reader wishes to become a member he should call Mrs. Gray at YE 4-2537 to have his name placed on a priority list for next season's membership drive.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Lance Barden, president, the group is actively engaged in several fund-raising projects to take place during the coming months. All proceeds from these events aid in the support of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

The monthly luncheon-bridge parties, which were originated a few years ago, continue to create much interest and are well attended by members and friends of the Orioles.

The annual rummage sale will be held on October 25 and 26 at St. George Hall, and anyone wishing to contribute articles for the sale can contact Mrs. W. R. Arends, CL 4-2481 or Mrs. M. W. Hardy, CL 4-2483.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

COUNTRY CUTIES, SUBURBAN Snooties and Beaming beauties All, sipped punch, prattled, picked up one petit-four apiece (diets?) plus other tempting tidbits and met teachers and new mothers at the Mothers Club Teas held last week. Fashionable Orinda ladies put on their own effortless style show for one another by looking, every last one of them, very modish and smartly-attired.

At the Warren YAGER home where the terrace provided a perfect setting for the sunny afternoon, the Del Rey mothers were greeted by Mrs. H. C. BOOTH, Gen. Chrmn., wearing a black and white print w/white accessories, and Mrs. Paul BARRETT in a white waffle pique princess dress, both looking cool and relaxed in spite of the many day's duties to which they had attended . . . Mrs. YAGER charming in an aqua cotton sheer spattered w/polka-dots.

Admiring the Rosewood grand piano which drew Ah's from everyone were newcomers to the neighborhood, Mrs. Frank KASTNER and Mrs. Robert MOOG . . . Chattering in groups . . . Mrs. Anthony TARANTO telling friends that her unusual silk print was stif-styled from an Indian SARI she had bought in New Delhi . . . A smart charcoal grey wool w/white collar and cuffs for Mrs. R. F. HOPKINS while Vice Pres. Mrs. Charles ERICKSON chose a good-looking green knit for the day of the in-between weather . . . As busy as Mrs. Milton VALLENS was at the Welcome, she took time to do a little fashion-copy for us . . . We hear she looked striking herself in a white linen scoop-neck dress.

GRAB YOUR GLOVES, we're off to Glorietta's Tea . . . At the Frank TEASDEL home the pool glistened under the Indian Summer sunshine and the Fall foliage and flowers were set off by the spacious wooded oak setting. Here Mrs. Abe DOTY, Gen. Chrmn. greeted guests wearing an avocado silk shantung dress which she designed herself and wore w/matching shoes. Mothers Club President Mrs. Vernon Axelson in a lovely lavender wool bolero suit . . . A smart navy shantung for Mrs. Frank TEASDEL and blue linen for Mrs. Jack CUNNINGHAM, while a red, white and black-striped knit suited Mrs. Frank SPENCER. A beautiful watermelon-shade in the lightweight suit worn by Mrs. Paul CATTOLICA.

Enlisting bridge-fans for the weekly Mothers Club bouts was Mrs. Edward PATTERSON in a beige wool w/blue accent and blue chiffon at the neckline . . . Home from a five-month European tour was Mrs. Jack GATES who had the distinction of wearing a Paris-purchased suit of navy, very haut couture, the long jacket line, hip padding, and the angora interwoven into the suit material . . . Chic brown cotton on Mrs. Charles IVY . . . Mrs. Ed WINTHERS in a rose-linen jacket over a cotton print.

Crisp cream-colored embroidered organdy on Mrs. George FINK and Mrs. Gregory ENGELHARD in a navy rawsilk suit . . . Fashionably fallish, Mrs. Martin WHITE in grey wool. Style-spy here was Mrs. Jack BLOCK in navy blue wool.

MORE HATLESS HEADS BUT SUCH PRETTY ONES! Sunny weather prevailed and although Autumn was evident, Thursday's fashions at the Sleepy Hollow Tea at the James IRWIN home were still a blend of both summer and fall, some reluctant to part w/ summer sheers and sheaths and others anxious to christen their Fall clothes.

On the broad terrace overlooking the pool, Mrs. James IRWIN in full-skirted white polished cotton embroidered w/pink clover chattering w/Tea Chrmn. Mrs. Beau Guinther in a square-collared sheath of turquoise whale-bone corduroy.

Looking for all the world like Ice cream was Mrs. Roscoe HUGHES in a strawberry-crush faille coat which picked up the print of her frock and ditto Mrs. Don LAWRIE in a lean lemon-yellow linen sheath . . . A tropical cotton print on Mrs. Kenneth RENWICH lading loganberry punch from a bowl surrounded by begonias.

Prints were popular . . . Mrs. Lloyd HECATHORN in beige, pink and black print . . . Mrs. Julian UNRUH in a print of turquoise, pink and cocoa. Knits were noticed on many, a beige one for Mrs. Robert BOYLE and a blue knit for Mrs. Ze'ev VERED, fourth grade teacher and new Orinda resident.

The sweater-dress combine popular w/Mrs. Frank HIBBARD in a scarlet shantung shouldering a black sweater bound in embroidered ribbon . . . The violet embroidered linen sheath worn by Mrs. William SCATENA sported a lavender sweater.

Mrs. Albert McCANN fashionable in geranium red wool w/zebra-striped scarf and matching bag . . . The perennial favorite, Black-Watch plaid on Mrs. Quentin Thompson . . . Chic grey corded cotton for Mrs. Alberto DE GRASSI and Mrs. Ernest CHILTON donning a red and green Italian silk . . . The deep tan of Mrs. William DOUGLASS enhanced by a sleeveless sheath of deep blue and black pinstripe cotton.

Our Lady Pinkertons here were Mrs. Gordon AINSWORTH eye-spying from under a vogueish beige beaver hat sporting a shooting chartreuse feather and Mrs. Charles GIBBS under that Big beautiful black faille hat arousing suspicions w/her little black book, making notes . . . Between the two, the copy made wonderful reading. We had notes to spare so forgive our oversight setting TWO spies at one affair.

WE POWDERED OUR FACE WITH SUNSHINE on the new expanse of patio and lawn at the William GILMORE home for the Orinda School mothers . . . Up the brick steps to receive a warm welcome from Mrs. GILMORE wearing a print dress of autumnal colors . . . In the receiving line, Mrs. Clint SCARICH, Gen. Chrmn. in a zodiac print of mustard, orange and green . . . Full-skirted grey taffeta on Mrs. Hugh RIEGER.

Matching the lime punch, Mrs. Bob HENDRICKSON whose white cotton pique was sprinkled w/green and lime flowers . . . Also in white, w/a fleur-de-lis design in navy, Mrs. Rudy HANSEN and ingeniously gracing the sleeve of the navy wool worn by Mrs. George RAUSLAUGH, a jewel of a star-gem! Smart beige linen vest-dress, sleeveless, for Mrs. Robert BABCOCK.

Blonde Mr. Harold OHLEYER in a heaven-blue Moygashel linen w/an interesting white knit yoke and abbreviated wht. sandals . . . Periwinkle blue wool ensemble and matching hat for Mrs. William SEIFERT. Mrs. Gordon MARTIN looking fall-ish in an unusual plaid cumberbund dress w/a sweep of a skirt.

P.S. And wasn't the punch GOOD! (We all drink too much coffee anyway!) In anwer to all the queries about the thirst-quenchers served; Available at JULES Fountain in Berkeley by the frozen gallons!

Prep Gridders Start League Play Tonight

Dons, Knights Both Hot for Victory In Tonight's Game at Acalanes Field

It's the "Big Game" of the season as far as the Las Lomas Knights and the Acalanes Dons are concerned when they face one another in the league opener on the Acalanes High turf tonight.

The game, set for 8 o'clock, promises to be a good one, with a large crowd and high-spirited rooting sections expected to fill the stands.

THE KNIGHTS have been a surprise come-through club which has racked up three successive wins, to be the only undefeated club in county prep circles.

The Dons have one win and two losses in their trio of practice tilts.

They have a speedy and hard-hitting backfield, plus a line that has given signs of developing into a well-knit unit.

THEY WERE impressive in the Tracy game two weeks ago, then slid downhill last week against Alhambra, but figure to bounce back in tonight's league opener with their arch-rivals, the Knights.

The Knights' line has played steady, consistent ball, and their ball-toting fullback, Don Ogden, is the league's leading scorer, despite the fact that he lay out most of last week's game to rest an ailing shoulder.

Ogden racked up five touchdowns in the first two games, which rates him as the county's top scorer.

THE LINE WEIGHTS of the two clubs are about on a par, with the Dons getting a big advantage in the backfield, where they can field a trio of runnning backs who average 185-190.

COACH ERWIN Mattson of the Dons has been on the border line in several choices for the starters.

At quarterback it's a toss-up between Al Sutton and Richard Markstein, and the same applies a tright half between Stuart Busby and Mike Barrett.

At left half it's Butch DeVillers or Gary Arel, with the fullback spot going to John Caldwell or Harold Ecklund.

The Dons' advantage appears to be in depth, both in the line and backfield, while the Knights' strength lies in their steadiness of play, which has brought them three victories in a row.

Acalanes Edged By Bulldog Team In 8-6 Thriller

The Alhambra Bulldogs came to town last Friday night and went home with an 8-6 victory over the Acalanes Dons tucked under their belts.

The Dons were far off their feed as they played inept ball a good part of the game and made a number of miscues that enabled a not-too-good Alhambra eleven to take the win.

The teams battled to a scoreless first quarter. The break came when in the second quarter the Bulldogs kicked deep to Don territory.

THE BALL was run to the 8-yard line by safety man Gary Arel.

On the second play Quarterback Richard Markstein faded back and was dumped in the end zone for a safety by Alhambra's shooting linebacker, Charles Lincoln.

As things turned out, the two points proved to be the difference in the final score.

THE DONS showed a flash of fire in the opening of the third quarter when they went from their own 36 to score in five plays, with Arel rambling off tackle to score standing up.

Stuart Busby's conversion try was blocked, and the score stood 6-2 in the Dons' favor until the fourth quarter, when Alhambra scored after kicking on fourth down, only to have a Don blocker called for clipping, giving Alhambra possession and a first and 10.

Cam Woolridge went 40 yards on the second play and from the 30 they went to the four-yard line in five plays, with Hiro Okawachi going over to score.

THE DONS dropped scoring opportunities with pass interceptions and fumbles at crucial spots, and the evening's play ended with the Bulldogs hanging on to their 8-6 margin for the win.

Busby and Arel did some fine running from their halfback spots, while one of the highlights was a brilliant kickoff return by Mike Barrett, who ran to the safety man before being stopped.

Best in the line were Laird Eickmeyer, and Jim Dinkel, a pair of guards for the Dons.

STEERING WHEEL PLAY

Too much play in the steering wheel of an automobile makes it difficult to handle properly. On most automobiles a free play of 3 inches or less is normal. If yours has more than that you should have it adjusted.

It's 3 in Row As Knights Whip Cougars by 19-0

The Las Lomas Knights kept their all-win record intact last Friday afternoon when they ran and passed their way to a convincing 19-0 win over the hapless Albany Cougars.

The game, played on the Albany field, found the two teams playing a scoreless first quarter.

THE FIRST SCORING came in the second period of play when Quarterback Jim Symington tossed a 25-yard pass to End Bob Karlsrud, and it was 6-0 at at the half, as the conversion try misfired.

In the third quarter the Knights got on their horse and galloped 75 yards in a series of plays featuring the running of sophomore Duane Brown from his fullback spot.

THE SERIES wound up with Symington going over on a quarterback sneak from five yards out.

The conversion was good, and it was 13-0.

Brown got into the scoring column in the final stanza when he bucked the pigskin over from the one-yard line, and it was 19-0 when the final gun sounded.

Coach George Deklotz's club kept Albany well in check most of the game.

Tackle Wally Busch and Center Webb Johnson were cited for their defensive play.

NEW LAWS IN EFFECT

Driving evening or night with only the parking lights on and driving with headlights that discern objects at less than 500 feet are now unlawful, warns the California State Automobile Association.

Knight Frosh Beat Dons 20-13

The Las Lomas frosh came through with a win in their first start last week when they toppled the Acalanes Babes by a 20-13 count in a game played at Las Lomas.

The winners' touchdowns were scored from eight yards out by Jim Hemstock, from five yards by Don Hopkins, and touchdown number three came with Steve Moore going the final two yards.

Outstanding players for the winners were Hopkins, Hemstock, Moore and Jim Sellers.

Prep Football League May Develop Wide-Open Race

By ERWIN MATTSON

THE CONTRA COSTA PREPS have finished their practice sessions in football and tonight the league gets under way.

The league looks like pretty much of an open race, with the Las Lomas Knights the only undefeated team in the three practice games played.

Las Lomas hardly figures to cop the league, though, as in its practice games it hasn't been of quite the caliber league teams usually appear to be.

I say "appears to be" because the practice games have for the most part been as inconsistent as could be, with clubs up one week and down the next.

No one club appears capable of dominating the league, and that should be a healthy situation all the way around, from players', coaches' and spectators' points of view.

Everything up to now has been practice. Experimentation is now at an end and the blue chips are down.

Some teams will rise to heights under the stress and strain of league play, while others will do the accordion act—fold.

One thing that spectators often expect at prep games is perfection of play, not realizing that players are relatively inexperienced and for the most part still in a stage of development.

I saw several games over the weekend, and it was a revelation how teams could change so much so quickly.

I saw Piedmont play Berkeley High, and Piedmont was anything but sharp. Fumbles, poor timing and a line that looked to be inefficient sent the Highlanders down to decisive defeat.

The Acalanes Dons, after the flashes of good play in the Tracy game a week earlier, put on a display of anything but good ball last Friday night when they hosted the Alhambra Bulldogs.

I saw Cal play sluggish ball for three and a half quarters before coming to life to whip a poor Pennsylvania team that came West for little more than the ride.

On top of that, I saw the 49ers hit the bottom on Sunday, when they looked like bush leaguers, dropping a league game to the Cleveland Browns.

In each and every case of the team mentioned, they were capable of much better ball, the whole thing being one of mental set. That indefinable thing known as desire was lacking.

Teams are like people — some days everything goes right and you can do no wrong. On other days, it's a complete turnabout.

In football you deal with a minimum of 11 personalities—and often, in these days of unlimited substitution, many more than that.

All of which adds up to the fact that football is a complicated game in more ways than such things as offense and defense.

Team personalities and temperaments must mold into one if a smooth-functioning machine is to be had.

Football probably has about as many upsets as any sport and one of the big reasons is the number of players involved.

LAS LOMAS High graduated its first class last June and they certainly have scattered far and wide.

Ed Kinney, last year's student body prexy, is enrolled at Cal and plans to try out for the Cal frosh team, following in the footsteps of brother Bob, who played on last year's frosh team after graduating from Acalanes.

Arne Lundquist is at San Jose, where he plans to play frosh basketball.

Rick Ostrom is at Stanford and looks forward to track in the spring.

Steve Cook is at College of the Pacific and wound up as class president. Steve won scholarships right and left and looks to be on the road to a bright future.

Andy Fadelli, all-county center while at Acalanes last fall, is at Arizona State and will be with the squad when it comes to San Jose this weekend.

Rams Will Meet Panther Eleven In Antioch Tilt

The Pleasant Hill Rams face the Antioch Panthers tonight in the league opener in a game to be played under the Antioch lights, starting at 8 o'clock.

Coach Hal Briggs has suffered three losses in his outings to date but retains an optimistic viewpoint and feels that his charges will give a good account of themselves.

One of the big reasons for the optimistic outlook is that for the first time the Rams come to a game at full strength, plus the fact he has come up with a find in Al Locatelli, the junior quarterback who has displayed a good throwing arm, to keep the defense loose.

THE RAMS received a shot in the arm when their veteran end Bill Nixon, returned, much earlier than expected after a banged-up knee came back quick.

Bill was a regular last year and his return strengthens the flank position, as well as giving the offense added go with his blocking and pass-catching ability.

KEY TO THE Rams' ground game will be Fullback Jim McMillin, who has been the team's leading ground-gainer almost without exception the past two years.

Not too big, but tough and a hard runner, he figures to give any defensive unit trouble—and that includes Antioch, considered by many the team to beat in league play.

The Rams will be outweighed, particularly in the line, and will have their problems with Al Harrington, Antioch's 205-pound fullback.

THE GAME will go a long way toward establishing the status of both clubs in what appears to be a tight league race.

The starters for the Rams, as announced by Coach Briggs:

Chinchilla Group To Meet Tonight

The Western Chinchilla Association will hold a meeting at the Richmond Auditorium tonight at 8 p.m., it was announced today.

Discussion will be held then on a new priming and pelting service to be offered ranchers, with the facilities of a priming and pelting ranch at Lake Tahoe to be established, according to Chairman Webster Dillon.

THIS IS IT! ORCHARD NURSERY'S FINAL MOVING SALE!
OCT. 7th-16th
7TH ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE SAT. & SUN., Oct. 8th & 9th

Here are the facts. The State has now given us 'til October 16th to "GIT." We hope for another extension, but aren't holding our breath. So this is the one, the only, the final moving sale. We are not re-ordering stock, so it's strictly the early bird who will get the good deal. After Oct. 16, we will probably be hanging out for a while in the BARN behind the Lazy K Ranch. The horses don't mind, we hope you won't. As for our Open House, maybe it is kind of crazy to hold it under present conditions. But this affair has become a tradition with us—and we hope with you. If you aren't fussy about "window dressing" we can promise the same fine show as always. Don't miss it.

When driving, be especially careful in residential neighborhoods. Children are often playing near the street, and a child chasing a ball has his mind on one thing only — the ball.

United Crusade Needs Your Help for Local Agencies

The United Bay Area Crusade's fund drive — for $10,691,640 — will start Tuesday and will continue to November 21.

While most people in Central Contra Costa County are aware of that, we wonder if most of them clearly understand that for the first time the United Crusade fund drive this year will be really unified for five Bay Area counties.

By donating at his place of work, a commuter from this area can be assured that his contribution will be equitably shared by the agencies at home — and that he or his family will not have to give again this year to the agencies which are part of the United Crusade.

Of course some agencies in this area, such as the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, are not part of the United Crusade and will again conduct their individual fund drives.

But the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and the other organizations that are affiliated with United Crusade will be depending upon your contribution for their continued operation.

It's up to each family to decide how much to give to the United Bay Area Crusade and how much to give to the independent local campaigns.

Give as much as you can. And remember, the United Bay Area Crusade simplifies what was once a complicated series of drives into one over-all drive.

Our Weather—On the Radio

Mark Twain's wisecrack to the effect that everyone talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it could be changed for Central Contra Costa County to:

Radio announcers seem to talk a lot about Bay Area weather but they don't say anything about the weather in our area.

But in order for the situation to be rectified, the radio stations would have to get out of their present rut of weather-reporting.

Haven't you noticed that the radio announcers, in reporting the weather, list temperatures and other facts about San Francisco, Oakland, Redwood City and San Rafael—but never refer to this area?

This has been pointed out recently by various groups.

It's an omission to make us bristle a bit, since we believe we have the most wonderful climate in the Bay area.

Along with all others who take justifiable pride in our healthful, mild climate, we respectfully urge the Bay Area radio stations to give due recognition to Central Contra Costa County by reporting our weather.

What They Say

Flipped Match Brings Tragedy

Jay W. Stevens, assistant manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, San Francisco office, told a recent meeting of the Lafayette Rotary Club that we are burning up more property and lives than ever before.

He said it is possible at the present rate for the United States to reach a billion-dollar loss for the year. In addition, the lives of 4000 children burned to death each year cannot be expressed in terms of money.

NEXT WEEK is Fire Prevention Week, and our researchers decided to ask the following question of a group of local people:

"What do you think the average family in this area should do to help prevent fires?"

Mrs. Kenneth W. Davis, 941 Mountain View Drive, Lafayette, replied: "Keep matches out of the way of children, and also any inflammable liquids. We should also burn down dry grass, and check our homes for faulty wiring."

"WE'RE VERY conscious of the fire hazard," said Mrs. H. J. Hart Jr., 38 Meadow Park Court, Orinda, "because we're right on the edge of East Bay Municipal Utility District property with plenty of weeds. We burn only in the incinerator, and are continually careful with matches."

Mrs. Robert R. Solinsky, 515 Dawkins Drive, Lafayette, said: "I believe the first rule of fire prevention is: Never throw matches anywhere but in a receptable. This will set good example, especially for children, so they won't get in the habit of being careless with fire."

"As I look out on my hillside," said Mrs. William W. Wilson, 38 Mira Loma, Orinda, "I see a good deal of dry grass. We should all make a greater effort to cut grass earlier, and rake it up."

THE "DO-IT-YOURSELF" craze is a major cause of dangerous home fires which start from overloaded wires, part of substandard electrical systems, R. J. Roberts of 73 Katherine Drive, Pleasant Hill, says.

Homeonwers who do their own work without strict regard to procedures required by law often find themselves in difficulty with inspectors or a type of fire that is hard to control, since it is not in the open, but within the structure of the home.

Child training is one good preventive measure, according to Mrs. Richard Hardy of 2938 Putnam Boulevard.

"From the age of two, right on up, train them to bring any matches they find directly to you," she advises.

WATCH OUT FOR old rags, paint, thinner, and all the other odds and ends which accumulate about areas where new homes are being built, is the warning of Melvin Dalby of 2049 Herron Avenue.

Damp rags, decomposing, are even more dangerous than dry rags, and with the unfortunate combination of circumstances (as rags near paint thinner, or gasoline) a tragedy can result, he adds.

VACANT LOTS AWAITING the construction of new homes are a special hazard, believes Mrs. Edward Geggis of 297 Oak Vue Avenue, Pleasant Hill.

Dry weeds can ignite in a moment, and soon after threaten homes or structures in an area such as Pleasant Hill, where much land is being opened up for new residences.

Engineer Tells Club Of Planting Project

A. E. Simmons, assistant district engineer in the Division of Highway's San Francisco office, told the Orinda Garden Club yesterday of the proposed freeway planting project for the Orinda interchange.

He spoke at the Orinda Country Club before the garden group's regular monthly meeting.

Women Voters Meet Next Week In Fall Sessions

Unit meetings of the League of Women Voters will begin next week in Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Lafayette and Concord, with all women interested invited to attend, according to Mrs. L. A. Doyle, public relations director.

The Monday evening unit will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. D. Yeaman of 3242 Moretti Drive, Concord, and two weeks later at the home of Mrs. Guy Harris, 1673 Georgia Drive, Concord.

The Tuesday evening unit will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Lanning of 725 Charlton Drive, Pleasant Hill, and two weeks later at 1142 Brown Ave the Lafayette home of Mrs. John Hunt.

For the Wednesday evening unit, its the home of Mrs. Robert Moore, 4 Van Cleave Lane, Walnut Creek, Monday, and two weeks later at 343 Marshall Drive, Walnut Creek home of Mrs James Keating.

Thursday afternoon unit first meets Thursday at the Lafayette home of Mrs. J. N. Lindemuth, 3421 La Caminita Drive, and October 27 at the Pleasant Hill home of Mrs. E. C. Litsinger of 209 Patterson Boulevard.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I welcome the opportunity to write a more full answer to your subscriber whose letter requesting information concerning our association you published last week.

It is hoped the writer was not under the impression that there is anything of a secret or shadowy nature in our organization. On the contrary, our views on specific issues have been printed in all of the local press, we maintained a booth at the Walnut Fest ival to explain our organization to the public, and our office address and telephone number have been published in the newspapers.

Inevitably, the population of Contra Costa County will grow. It is our purpose to do what we can to insure an orderly, intelligent, progressive growth, so that the end result will be a well-balanced county that is still a pleasant place to live.

We are not allied with any other groups, being independent and ready to take our stand for or against the views of any group as the specific issue demands.

However, there are small pressure groups creating confusion and delays in the development of the county almost constantly. The results of their activity can only mean a hashed-up, unbalanced community in the final analysis.

These groups have been successful in creating confusion because they have been able to organize and voice what are claimed to be facts supporting their interests, without the inconvenience of having the other side presented. This, of course, is not healthy for the future of the county. Both sides should be heard.

I would appreciate any questions regarding the association to be asked directly of us rather than through letters-to-the-editor columns. The association address is 998 Hough Avenue, Lafayette, telephone AT 3-8112. I will welcome an appointment to talk with any interested party.

H. P. Newman
Executive Vice President
Association for the Progress and Improvement of Contra Costa County.

DEAR EDITOR:

I wish at this time to extend to you and your staff my heartfelt thanks for your cooperation in publicizing our recent El Cristo Rey Fiesta.

The outstanding success of this year's affair was due in no small part to the column inches your paper devoted to its publicity.

May I say again "thank you" for your cooperation.

Reverend John J. Murray
Pastor,
Christ the King Church.

Under The Sun

Traffic jams and commuting

Bob Kahn, a veteran of many years of commuting, called long distance the other day. He was concerned because recent accidents during commute hours had jammed traffic — which is neither news nor unusual. But Bob was adamant that the tie ups were unnecessarily lengthy.

Bob's point is that police authorities (State Highway Patrol and Oakland Police) do not take enough steps to unravel the traffic mess and get the lines of cars moving.

"In the past weeks I saw two accidents that tied up traffic during commuting hours," he said. "In the accident a week ago Wednesday on the west side of the Tunnel, there were four or five motorcycle police and four or five police cars from the Highway Patrol and Oakland Police. No attempt was made to direct traffic. They were clearing the cars and writing citations while two lanes of traffic fought each other to squeeze into one lane. Everyone would have moved much faster if just one policeman had directed traffic."

Use a third lane

Bob further suggests that if all the traffic is heading one way, which happens in the morning and again in late afternoon, the authorities could detour traffic over one of the lanes coming from the opposite direction. Using flares, signs and themselves, patrolmen could solve the bottleneck by guiding cars over the extra lane. This could eliminate the car back up which sometimes extends for miles.

I wonder how many dollars of wasted time and hours of anxiety could be saved if these commuter bottlenecks could be opened with less delay.

Closing the conversation, I asked Bob if he would double check on trucks slowing traffic. He promised to keep notes and send me the results in a few weeks.

You, too, Mr. Commuter, can help if you wish. Let me know when, where and whose trucks are slowing down traffic during commuting hours. Working with the trucking companies and their association, Diablo Highway Improvement Association and Commuters Association, we may be able to improve the situation.

Let's help John and Jane

Now let's switch to an entirely different phase of life in suburbia.

I attended a parents' meeting for Danny's second grade a few nights ago and was most impressed with some words of wisdom spoken by the teacher. Throughout the meeting you could tell the school was concerned that we parents should understand the methods and philosophy of teaching reading. The method seemed very good — not too progressive, nor too conservative. Nevertheless, the faculty was obviously reacting to the furor of "Why Johnny Can't Read" and other criticism of reading methods.

I didn't take down the exact quotes but I thought these were words of wisdom:

"Don't put too much pressure on your child about reading, good grades, being best in class and so forth. Because, if you do, you may cause problems that may take years to solve. Most of you think of your children as college material — and they are. But give them a chance to learn — without breathing down their necks."

There certainly was no implication that the parents should not be interested in the school work. The emphasis was not to pressure our children.

I think it makes sense. Do you?

Letters to The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

Editorially last week "you asked for it" and prompted me to write this letter I've "been of a mind to" for some time.

We moved to this area four years ago. Realizing the desirability of subscribing to a local paper, we decided on the "Sun." It took me another year to understand our school set up well enough to realize that the Lafayette School District news was not covered in the Walnut Creek Sun. All of Sun Valley is in the Lafayette School District, though our mail, our phone, our shopping interests are in Walnut Creek, and those who do subscribe to the Sun in this area do get the Walnut Creek version.

A YEAR OR TWO ago when you undertook an extensive subscription drive in this valley it was the Walnut Creek Sun you sought to promote. Naively I suggested that you be contacted to explain this lack of news on a subject of vital interest to us in Sun Valley. The Lafayette School District school board, the Lafayette Citizens Committee for Education and my own Montecito P.T.A. Board all said, "it has beeen tried and we got nowhere." So I gave up too.

In fact this August when our subscription to the Sun expired, I renewed but changed the subscription to the Lafayette Sun. (I am still receiving the Walnut Creek Sun two months later and have had to buy the Lafayette Sun off the stands).

THE FOLLOWING suggestion is not mine alone, but that of several people to whom I have talked. Have only one "Sun." We all want the area-wide news and the editorials. Have sub-sections, if you wish, for specific Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda news.

From the beginning I have thoroughly enjoyed the editorials. As a complete newcomer, I had much to learn and have truly appreciated Mr. Silverman's "pull no punches" editorial approach. Such frankness is not only rare, but very refreshing. Libby Langdell and Elaine Anderson do a splendid job of writing up Sun Valley news (though it does not always get into the Walnut Creek paper). All of you are extremely co-operative with the P.T.A. and the youth organizations, publicity and picture-wise.

YOUR PHOTOGRAPHER came out just last week to take pictures of Montecito's forthcoming Bike Rodeo and Montefair. Both these mean a lot to our school and I, as P.T.A. president this year, am very grateful. (Most of the Montecito School people will not see the pictures nor the write-up though if it is only in the Lafayette Sun).

I don't have "time" to write this letter this Saturday or this year even, and I would never have done so had it not been for yesterday's invitation. Must go now to wrap "grab-bag" packages and paint signs for the Montefair.

DEAR EDITOR

"This country was not founded by cowards and cowards will not preserve it." In these words Elmer Davis ("But We Were Born Free") stood up in the midst of the McCarthy hysteria to help turn the tide again toward American principles of decency and fair-play.

Many of The Sun's letters to the editor are written behind a curtain of anonymity on much less controversial subjects. I have always felt that opinions worth expressing are worth putting over your name. Why should their writers be afraid to have their names published? The reader likes to know who it is who writes clearly and who doesn't.

What usually happens to the writer of a letter to the editor? Exactly nothing. This is not Soviet Russia or Nazi Germany. We will never embark on the road to dictatorship as long as honest difference of opinion is freely expressed.

Most of these "Name Withheld" letters have a good message. I am confident that the opinions expressed will be still more effective if their writers would show their colors proudly.

"You've Got to Have Heart!"

(The following letter was sent to the County Planning Commission, and a copy furnished to The Sun.)

Gentlemen:

A public reprimand should be given Mr. George Weise and his Progress and Development Association for the vicious and unwarranted newspaper attack on Mr. Thomas G. Heaton, Planning Director, and his technical planning staff. Such attack is the worst kind of malicious and cowardly action on persons who cannot hit back — civil servants who are trying to do a job.

As a citizens' planning group, and as individuals, we may not always agree with the findings and conclusions of members of the Planning Department, but we yill always uphold their right to act in their independent professional capacity and encourage their adherence to basic planning principles and ethics.
